Under ſo affecting a Loſs, nothing could tend to alleviate our Concern more, than the pleaſing Proſpect, which your Majeſty's Princely Virtues, Wiſdom and Juſtice, afford your People, of their future Happineſs, in the Enjoyment of their juſt Rights and Liberties; together with thoſe early Meaſures which you have been graciouſly pleaſed to take for the Suppreſſion of Vice and Immorality, and the Promotion of Piety and Virtue in your Realm. May the united Affection of your Subjects await your Royal Throne, and the great Diſpoſer of Kings and Kingdoms render your Majeſty's Reign, over a free, loyal, and affectionate People, long, happy, and glorious.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Principal Inhabitants of the Antient Town and Borough of Southwark, affectionately attached to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, and rejoicing at every Event which can contribute to your Majeſty's Glory and Happineſs, humbly beg Leave to offer our moſt reſpectful Congratulations to your Majeſty, on Occaſion of your Royal Nuptials.

So important and happy a Union with a Proteſtant Princeſs, diſtinguiſhed for Her Virtues and amiable Endowments, has filled the Hearts of all your Subjects with the warmeſt Sentiments of Duty and Gratitude, as it affords us the pleaſing Proſpect of having our Religious and Civil Liberties tranſmitted, in their fulleſt Luſtre, to Poſterity, through a Race of Princes, formed after your excellent Example, and Inheritors alike of your Majeſty's Crown and Virtues.

May your Majeſty continue to be bleſſed with every conjugal Felicity; and, poſſeſſing the Hearts of a dutiful and free People, may your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign be long over us, attended with ſuch a Series of Victories, as may force our natural and inſidious Enemies to ſue for a juſt and honourable Peace, effectually ſecuring the Commercial Rights of your Majeſty's Kingdoms.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of Canterbury, in Burghmote aſſembled.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's truly dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Commonalty of your ancient City of Canterbury, prompted by the prevalent Motives of Duty, Gratitude, and Affection, beg Leave to expreſs our unfeigned Joy on your Majeſty's happy Nuptials: A Union, ſo conformable to the Sentiments of your Subjects, as to impreſs on their Minds the moſt promiſing Ideas.

Your Majeſty's early and tender Concern for the Welfare of theſe Kingdoms, has been evidently conſpicuous on all Occaſions; and your Alliance with a Houſe ſo firmly attached to the Proteſtant Intereſt, is not only a freſh Inſtance of it, but a convincing Proof of the Regard your Majeſty has always ſhewn for the preſent as well as future Proſperity of your People.

We have juſt Reaſon to be ſenſible of our Happineſs in a Marriage, cemented by every Virtue; and eſteem ourſelves under the greateſt Obligations to promote the Eaſe and Tranquility of your Majeſty, and Royal Conſort: And may that excellent Princeſs, your affectionate Parent, by whoſe Guidance and Directions the many Virtues your Majeſty inherits have been improved, enjoy the great Satisfaction of beholding them, for many Years, in their higheſt Radiance and Glory.

The Choice of a Princeſs, adorned with ſuch numerous Accompliſhments, and deſcended from a Family, famed for its Attachment to your Majeſty's own Illuſtrious Houſe in particular, and to the Proteſtant Cauſe in general, cannot but give Pleaſure and Satisfaction to every True Briton, whoſe Boſom glows with an honeſt Warmth for the Welfare of His Country, and the Purity of the Religion he profeſſes.

And as your own Royal Virtues, Sir, juſtly claimed a Conſort of the moſt diſtinguiſhed Merit; ſo the preſent Alliance fills us with the pleaſing Hopes of Happineſs, hence iſſuing to your Majeſty, and of Bleſſings to ourſelves and Poſterity. And the Crown, ſo lately received, not only with the outward Applauſe, but the inward Affections of your People, your Majeſty will wear with ſuch increaſing Dignity and Honour, as will, we truſt, give it Eſtabliſhment and Perpetuity, in a Race of Princes, lineal Deſcendants from yourſelf and your Royal Conſort.

That very extraordinary and uninterrupted Series of Succeſs, which has hitherto attended your Majeſty's Arms, we cannot but look upon as Preſages of future Triumph over all the Incroachers upon our Rights, and Diſturbers of our Peace. And thoſe Maxims of true Policy, (that is) of True Religion, which influence your Majeſty's Councils and Conduct, will occaſion your Auſpicious Reign to be diſtinguiſhed by the brigheſt Characters in the Annals of this Iſle, and will render your moſt Sacred Name, and Perſon, the Admiration of the preſent Age, and glorious to Eternity.

The humble Addreſs of the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty, of the Corporation of Ipſwich in the County of Suffolk.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty, of your very ancient Corporation of Ipſwich, in Great Court aſſembled, glad of this favourable Opportunity of unburdening our Hearts, (full of Joy and Gratitude for the Bleſſings we enjoy under the Auſpicious Reign of your Sacred Majeſty) preſume, with the reſt of your faithful People, to approach your Royal Perſon with the ſincereſt Profeſſions of untainted Congratulation.

The Beginning of your Majeſty's Reign has given us the greateſt Encouragement, not only to hope, but to expect the Continuance of thoſe Bleſſings, which Heaven has ſhowered down ſo abundantly upon your Majeſty's Sacred Head.

Your Majeſty's tender Concern for the Good and Welfare of your People; your pious Endeavours for promoting Religion and good Manners, by your bright Example and Recommendation, and ſuppreſſing Immorality and Profaneneſs, by publiſhing your Abhorrence of them, cannot fail of intereſting Heaven in your Favour, and of rendering your Majeſty the happieſt, as you already are the greateſt of Princes, and your Subjects as happy, under ſo wiſe and benevolent an Adminiſtration.

When we look upon your Majeſty in this amiable Light; favoured by Heaven, feared by your Enemies, and beloved by your People; it is with redoubled Joy we ſee the Glories of your Majeſty's Reign, crowned with private and domeſtick Felicity.

Your Majeſty's Alliance with a Princeſs ſo remarkably diſtinguiſhed, and ſo juſtly eſteemed by all Europe, as it gives the World the higheſt Admiration of your Wiſdom, ſo muſt it afford the moſt delightful and extended Proſpect of Happineſs to your Majeſty and People.

What then have your Majeſty's faithful Subjects further to wiſh? But that it would pleaſe the ſame good Providence, which conducted your Majeſty to the Throne of theſe Realms under its benign Influence; and directed your Majeſty in the Choice of your Illuſtrious Conſort, to prolong the Glories and Proſperity

Proſperity of your Reign in your Majeſty's Sacred Perſon, and to tranſmit them a perpetual Inheritance to the lateſt Poſterity.

Your Majeſty, ever attentive to the Intereſt, and ſtudious to promote the Welfare of your People, has crowned all the former Inſtances of your paternal Goodneſs, by the happy Choice of an excellent Princeſs, eminent for Her Virtues, and particularly diſtinguiſhed for every amiable Quali y that can increaſe the Happineſs and Dignity of your Majeſty's Reign.

We your faithful Subjects, penetrated with a Senſe of the Bleſſings we enjoy under your auſpicious Government, can form no Hope more pleaſing to ourſelves, or more conducive to the national Proſperity, than to ſee a numerous Race of Princes, deſcended from your Majeſties, that may, to lateſt Time, inherit the Kingdoms, and perpetuate the Virtues of their Royal Anceſtors, and may, like them, continue to reign in the united Affections of a loyal, grateful, and happy People.

Given under the Corporation Seal in Quinbrough, the 17th of October, 1761.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgeſſes of the Borough of Banbury, in the County of Oxford, beg Leave to join in the publick Congratulations on the happy Event of your Majeſty's Marriage.

May your Majeſty live long to enjoy the Fruits of your Virtue, Wiſdom and watchful Care of theſe Nations; and may this happy Union be bleſt with a Race of Princes, who being formed by your Precepts, and animated by your Example, may extend to future Times the Bleſſings of your Majeſty's Reign, and tranſmit the Civil and Religious Liberties, and every valuable Right of the Subjects of Great Britain, entire and unimpaired to the lateſt Poſterity.

Given under our Common Seal, this 15th Day of October, 1761.

The following Addreſs of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Right Honourable Lord Howe, (in the Abſence of Colonel Howe, one of their Repreſentatives in Parliament) being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of the Town and County of the Town of Nottingham.

MAY it pleaſe your Majeſty to permit your ever dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Mayor and Burgeſſes of your antient Corporation of Nottingham, in Common Council aſſembled, to join in the univerſal Voice of Congratulation upon your Majeſty's happy Marriage; which we eſteem a moſt endearing Inſtance of your Majeſty's Goodneſs and Regard for the Intereſt of your People.

We are fully convinced, that the Enjoyment of our Civil and Religious Liberties, and all that is valuable and dear to us as Britons and Proteſtants, do intirely depend, under Almighty God, upon your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, and a Succeſſion of Princes in your Royal Line; and we muſt ever acknowledge, with the utmoſt Gratitude, that your Majeſty, by your Union with a Princeſs illuſtrious in Her Birth, and eminent for Her Accompliſhments, hath graciouſly taken the moſt promiſing Method, that human Wiſdom could dictate, to perpetuate the Bleſſings, which we enjoy under your Majeſty's auſpicious Government, to our lateſt Poſterity.

May God Almighty grant, that your Majeſty and your Royal Conſort may long reign together in domeſtick Happineſs, and in the Affections of all your People; and that there may never be wanting a Prince deſcended from your Majeſty, with a Mind formed, after your Majeſty's glorious Example, for every Thing great and good, to ſit upon the Throne of theſe Kingdoms.

Copenhagen,

Copenhagen, October 13. By a Ship juſt arrived from the Baltick, we learn, that Eleven Ruſſian Men of War, and Three Tranſports, from before Colberg, were lying laſt Wedneſday at Anchor under the Iſland of Bernholm; and that Three more were met by it under Sail, beating between that Place and the Iſland of Moen.

Aix Chapelle, October 11. Yeſterday in the Afternoon, Prince Clement of Saxony ſet out for Maeſtricht in his Way to Paris, where his Highneſs will ſpend great Part of the Winter.

Aix la Chapelle, October 16. Laſt Monday the King's Houſhold began their March, from their Quarters of Cantonment near Weſel, to return to France. The Horſe Grenadiers will arrive at Liege the 19th; the firſt Company of Muſquetaires, with the Gendarmes de la Garde, at Tongres the 20th: The reſt will follow, with one Day's Interval between the March of each Corps. The French and Swiſs Guards are likewiſe to return to France, as well as the Regiments of Damas and Conti Cavalry: The firſt has been ruined by the Glanders, the latter by three long Campaigns. The reſt of Princ Soubize's Army will march towards the End of this Month into the Winter Quarrers aſſigned them, on the Lower Rhine, the Biſhoprick of Liege, the Dutchy of Limbourg, and in the adjacent Countries.

Hague, October 16. There are no direct Accounts from the Army in Weſtphalia; but Letters from Hamburgh of the 13th Inſtant ſay, that Wolfenbuttel capitulated to a Corps of French Troops under Prince Xavier of Saxony, on the 10th Inſtant, after Five Days Siege. It is added, that Prince Frederick and General Luckner were upon their March to throw themſelves into Brunſwick. In the mean Time, the Reigning Duke had, upon the Approach of the Enemy, quitted that Place, and retired to Lunebourg, from whence his Serene Highneſs was expected at Hamburgh on the 14th.

There are Reports, that ſeveral Detachments of Prince Ferdinand's Army were in March towards Brunſwick.

We are aſſured, that the Accounts which have been publiſhed, with ſo much Affectation, of the Deſtruction of ſeveral Magazines belonging to the Allied Army in Weſtphalia, are void of Foundation, the making of Any upon the Ems having been forbidden ever ſince the Month of April; and there having been nothing found by the French in Oſnabrug, but a Quantity of bad Hay of little or no Value.

Letters from Magdeburg ſay, that the King of Pruſſia's Head Quarters were at Groſs Noſſen, behind Munſterburg; and that it did not appear that his Majeſty was then informed of what had happened to Schweidnitz in the Night of the 30th paſt. The ſame Letters add, that General Platen did not join the Duke of Wirtemberg till the 3d Inſtant, having been harraſſed and retarded in his March by ſeveral Ruſſian Detachments: It was hoped, however, that by this Junction, Colberg might be ſaved. Part of the Ruſſian Army, under General Fermor, was at Drieſſen, raiſing Contributions in the New Marche of Brandenburg.

On the 8th Inſtant, Part of the Army of the Empire took Poſſeſſion of Halle.

Hague, October 20. The Letters, received from the Army in Weſtphalia, are of the 14th Inſtant; Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters were then at Marien Munſter; but the Army was on the Point of marching; and we have ſince heard, that his Serene Highneſs has eſtabliſhed his Head Quarters at Falckenhagen, in the Bailiwick of Polle. Marſhal Broglio's Head Quarters were at Eſcherſhauſen, on the oppoſite Side of the Weſer.

The ſudden Surrender of the Town of Wolfenbuttel, on the 10th, which the French had ſet Fire to in ſeveral Places, having prevented the Succour ſent for the Relief of it, from arriving in Time, Prince Xavier of Saxony immediately inveſted Brunſwick, and opened Trenches before it; but he has not had the ſame Succeſs there. In order to cover the Siege, he had taken Poſſeſſion of Londorff, and the important Paſs of Olper, and had intrenched a Body of Troops there. General Luckner, joined to Prince Frederick of Brunſwick, arrived by forced Marches in the Neighbourhood; and whilſt the General marched with his Cavalry towards Peine, Prince Frederick attacked the French in their Intrenchments, and, after an obſtinate Defence, forced them, with a conſiderable Loſs on their Side, and took above 200 Priſoners, with ſeveral Officers, one Piece of Cannon, and a Major General. The young Prince proceeded, without Loſs of Time, to Brunſwick, where he entered the 13th in the Evening, with ſix Battalions, and was received with the greateſt Joy by the Garriſon and the Inhabitants. Their Arrival was notified to the Beſiegers by a general Volley from the Ramparts, which made them abandon their Trenches with great Precipitation. They have ſince abandoned Wolfenbuttel, after levying exorbitant Contributions, as they have done every where, and retired to Sceſen. Several Reinforcements having ſince marched by Hanover that Way, it is thought that Prince Xavier's Corps may have ſuffered in its Retreat, eſpecially as he has a pretty large Quantity of Artillery with him.

The Prince of Soubiſe's Army is going into Quarters. His Head Quarters were a few Days ago at Borken, within ſix Leagues of Weſel, at which laſt Place he is ſoon expected. The French Houſehold Troops, Horſe and Foot, have repaſſed the Rhine, and are marching back to France. The French are going to throw a Bridge over the Rhine at Emmerick.

The Count of Choiſeul is declared Miniſter of the Department of Foreign Affairs in France, in the Room of the Duke of Choiſeul his Brother, who keeps the War Office, and unites to it the Military Part of the Marine: The Commercial Part of the Marine is put under the Direction of the Comptroller General. M. Berryer, late Miniſter of the Marine, is appointed Keeper of the Great Seal.

Admiralty Office, October 20.

Captain Young, of His Majeſty's Ship the Mars, is arrived at Plymouth with the Amarante, a French Privateer of 18 Six Pounder Guns, and 137 Men, belonging to St. Maloes, which he took the 17th of laſt Month. She had been out three Weeks, and had taken but one Brig from Madeira, which was ranſomed, and the Ranſomer on Board the Privateer.
